

ChairReady

PROGRAMME

"The Criticaleye Chair Ready Programme has shed light on the nuanced responsibilities that set the Board Chair apart from Board members. This journey has not only deepened my understanding of these responsibilities, but also instilled the confidence to lead with impact. I am now more prepared than ever to embrace the challenges and opportunities of a Board Chair."

Mui Hoon Poh, Non-executive Board Member & Member of Audit and Risk Committee, Singapore Eye Research Institute

"Having recently taken on my first Chair role, Criticaleye's Chair Ready Programme has helped me to establish the type of Chair I want to be. Insightful conversations with experienced Chairs who have the scars from tough experiences underscored the value of cross-sector learning and serve as a reminder for those in insurance or financial services of its importance. Criticaleye's Community has honed my understanding of the difference a good Chair makes as well as allowing me to meet some inspirational ones."

Mark Stephen, Chair, TransRe London

"Striving to be successful in our second careers is as important as for our first career, and the Criticaleye Chair Ready Programme is a fantastic way to navigate the change from executive to Chair. The opportunity to exchange ideas and learn from real practitioners within a cohort of talented, like-minded individuals enhances the experience and I wholeheartedly recommend this programme as a valuable investment in both skills and future endeavours."

Nigel Howell, Member of the Board of Trustees, Trust For London

"As a Senior Independent Director on a number of Boards, there are times when I have had to step in when a Chair was absent or unavailable. I wanted to feel better equipped both from a confidence and from a skills perspective, but also to consider whether or not to apply for Chair roles myself. The Criticaleye Chair Ready Programme has been invaluable, providing me with both skills and confidence while offering access to a valuable network of Chairs and NEDs for advice. I highly recommend it."
