

Corporate Membership

We understand leaders and senior teams are operating in an increasingly complex world.

Changing pace and a difficult macroeconomic climate create myriad new challenges. Our Corporate Membership is a leadership development solution which flexibly supports multiple executives, elevates individual and team performance and is agile enough to flex and course correct where needed.

How we support our Corporate Members

44% have ExCo ambitions and are being supported in stepping up to the top jobs

55% are using Criticaleye to understand best practice across the Board, including the evolving governance landscape and gaining greater insight into Audit, Risk, Remuneration and Ethics committees

Criticaleye is supporting 48% of leaders to enhance their communication skills with the Board and ExCo

70% of leaders are being supported with their work-life balance, managing their time effectively and preventing burnout

40% are keen to influence at a helicopter level and build high performing teams to prevent dropping down into the detail

“The Criticaleye Community has offered me tremendous support, especially through the insights and experiences shared by my Board Mentor. Their Corporate Membership has provided my team with an energizing environment to connect, absorb essential knowledge, explore external reference points and develop their confidence in thought leadership, all of which have been crucial for their skill and mindset development.”

Heather Hayes, Global HR Director, Lightsource bp

“Through our Corporate Membership, Criticaleye has identified and highlighted areas of interest and mutual challenge to foster greater collaboration and alignment across the organisation. This approach has provided our leaders with additional safe space to support them and access peers with whom they can benchmark with.”

Karen McKeever, Chief People Officer, Drax Group

“As a Member of the Criticaleye Community, I’ve received invaluable support during my tenure as CPO, navigating through numerous challenges and my Mentor has been integral in supporting my transition to CEO. Through their Corporate Membership programme, Criticaleye has been world-class in supporting my leadership team in developing to the next level and uplifting their capabilities. They strike a balance by providing tailored interactions that cater to my individual needs while fostering growth among executives across our organisation.”

Chris Norbury, CEO and former CPO, E.ON UK

“The interactions available are tailored to me as an individual, but it’s great to know Criticaleye is also working to develop our collective abilities as a group of executives across our organisation.”

Claire D’abreu-Hayling, Chief Scientific Officer, Sandoz
